

The diagram shows a hexagonal lattice of circles, each containing a black line pattern representing a vertex configuration. The circles are colored yellow or orange, with two magenta circles. The entire lattice is enclosed in a large hexagon. The line patterns represent different types of vertices, such as 3-fold, 4-fold, and 6-fold, which are characteristic of a tiling of the plane by triangles.

© E. SPECHT &
D. A. PATERSON
07-DEC-2020